- 1 Youtube video:
https://youtu.be/Fh4uX_Grxrg

Structure/activities

- First, you can explain to your young students that the European Union is based on 6 key values
- They can learn them through a flashcard game: print below or use this template and/or with this Youtube video:
https://youtu.be/Fh4uX_Grxrg
- You can print the flashcards to have them in your classroom, or decide to create them digitally with some websites like Flashmind or Quizlet.
- In this first game, on one side there is the name of the value, and on the other side a simple definition.
- A step forward is to use a second set of flashcards: print below or use this template.
- In this second game, on one side there is the name of the value, and on the other side there is an example of the value.

Background information

- Aims and values (europa.eu)
- Module 5 of the e-learning EU@school

Assessment

- You can assess your students with a memory game.
- You can divide the students in small groups and distribute among them the cards. You can print the same flash cards not front back, but on two separated sheets.
- You can decide whether using the game 1 or 2, or both among different groups.
- In this way, you can put all the cards covered on the table, and the students must find the matching cards.
- You can use this lesson in connection with Escape room "Welcome Eastern Europe!" of EU@school.
